Air Force Revolt Subsides

New Brazil Crisis Reported Settled

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The presidential press office announced the latest crisis blocking Joao Goulart's assumption of the presidency has been solved and he will fly to this capital today.

The crisis was the reported rebellion of a group of air forces men to bar Goulart's return.

There was no immediate word as to how this was settled.

The crisis blew up in the night when congressional leaders announced that an air force rebellion had flared. But the air force chief of staff denied any such uprising.

The announcement of the settlement was made after acting President Ranieri Mazzilli conferred more than an hour in the government palace with the three ministers of the armed forces.

Stunned congressmen summoned to an extraordinary 17-minute session were chilled by an announcement that air force dissidents apparently were determined to gun down Goulart's plane if he tried to fly to Brasilia to be sworn in.

Hours later Brig. Ismar Brasil, head of the general staff in Rio de Janeiro, declared there was "most complete calm in all air force units."

In a communique he said he was in permanent contact with commanders of all air zones and is in a position to deny "with assurance tendentious news divulged with the objective to disturb public opinion."

The communique said all air force units were under complete discipline and carrying out government orders, and that the minister, Gabriel Grum Moss, was in the capital with other members of the government carrying out his duties.

The air force statement did not quell completely reports of an uprising. A source close to air force leaders said it seemed there was a small defection limited to a small area near Brasilia. The source said one of the defecting

Fire Destroys House Near West Point

LISBON — An estimated $7,000 damage was caused by a fire which destroyed a house and its contents near West Point Sunday.

Defective wiring was reported as cause of the blaze which occurred shortly after 7 a.m. at the home of George Short on the Delson Road, about two and a half miles northwest of West Point.

Firemen said about $3,000 damage was caused to the house and $4,000 to the contents.

The structure was owned by Archie Beaver who told firemen the house was not insured. Short said he had some insurance on the contents.

Twenty West Point volunteer firemen in two trucks responded to the alarm.

Would you like to own your own home? If so, you can. Now Fluharty Construction Co., 104 East Prospect St., Alliance, Ohio, will erect a home for you with absolutely no money down and payments as low as $50 per month—ad

Deadline Nears For GM Strike

Company Reported Planning New Offer

DETROIT (AP) — Deadlocked and facing a 10 a.m. strike deadline Wednesday the United Auto Workers union and General Motors go back to the contract bargaining table today.

There were persistent reports GM was planning a new wage and fringe package offer. Company spokesmen declined to answer questions speculating on this.

Asked if there had been any indication in six hours of Labor Day bargaining that a new proposal might be in the offing, UAW President Walter P. Reuther said there "was no change in the economic position of either party" but added "it would be reasonable to expect developments Tuesday."

One side or the other must budge or a strike is certain. A walkout would idle 325,000 GM production workers in 71 cities stretching from coast to coast.

Reuther was standing on his demand that GM give the wage and fringe benefit improvements granted by American Motors Aug. 26 in a new agreement that includes profit sharing. The UAW backtracked on a demand GM also share profits.

The Big Three—GM, Ford and Chrysler—made a parallel three-year offer five days before the American Motors agreement was announced. GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said it would add $1,000 over three years to paychecks of GM workers.

Reuther rejected the offer as "woefully inadequate" and the union claimed that GM workers, instead of gaining $1,000, would lose $89 in the three years.

Since the union picked GM as its target in shooting for a pattern-setting contract, it has let Ford and Chrysler negotiations slide.

Contracts with the Big Three ran out Aug. 31, but were extended on the last-minute request of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The UAW said, however, it wouldn't work an hour past 10 a.m. Wednesday at GM without a new contract.

Teacher assignment is as follows: Sister Mary Andrew, first grade; Sister Jerome, first and second grade; Helen Druszkowski, second grade; Sister Mary Ronald, third grade; Elaine Migliorini, 4 A; Miss Sally Steffell, 4 B, and fifth grade; Sister Thomas More, fifth grade; Mrs. Mary Fisher, sixth grade; Mrs. Helen Brahm, seventh grade; Sister Miriam Therese, seventh and eighth grade; and Sister M. Benedicta teaches eighth grade and serves as principal.

Other personnel at the school are Ruth Davis, office, and Regis Mitchell, custodian.

The cafeteria will start serving meals Wednesday. Working in the cafeteria are Mrs. Anne Lavelle and Mrs. Emily Arnold.

6 Others Hurt In Area Traffic Mishaps

New Springfield Woman Is Killed

A 35-year-old New Springfield woman was killed and six other persons injured in area highway accidents Monday.

Dead is Mrs. Violet Tabor, 35, of E. Lisbon St., New Springfield. She died of a crushed chest and fractured skull when the car which she was driving went out of control on Beard Rd. near New Springfield, and crashed into a wooded area.

Two passengers in her car, a daughter, Sue Tabor, 17, and Mrs. Lillian Lilley, also 17, of E. Lisbon St., New Springfield, were injured and taken to Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Sue suffered shock and Mrs. Lilley has head injuries.

The State Highway Patrol said Mrs. Tabor was driving north on Beard Road and lost control of the car when it started to skid. The auto went off the right side of the road and slid sideways for 41 feet through a wooded area just east of the road.

The car knocked over a tree four inches in diameter and finally came to rest against another tree 20 inches in diameter. The auto struck this tree broadside on the driver's side. The car was demolished.

Mrs. Homer Hilliard, 67, of 355 W. State St., is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital with severe lacerations of the face and lower lip, abrasions of the arms and legs and a possible concussion. She was hurt in a one-car accident on the Homeworth Rd., just south of Rt. 62, at 9:15 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Hilliard was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Homer C. Hilliard, 74. The patrol said Hilliard apparently was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming car. He drove off the right side of the road, struck a mailbox and slid sideways.

Three persons, including two Lisbon men, were injured in a two-car collision at the junction of Pigeon and Depot Rds., south of Salem, at 11:25 a.m. Monday. Admitted to Salem City Hospital were:

Two Fined Following N. Lincoln Collision

Two arrests followed a three-car accident that occurred at 1:45 p.m. yesterday, just north of E. 10th St. on N. Lincoln Ave.

Irwin Elder, 65, of 2034 Guadalupe Ave., Youngstown, and Francis E. Santore, 50, of 1532 Himrod Ave., Youngstown, were each fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dean Cranmer for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Police reported that a car driven by G. Dale Hinerman, 24, of RD 5, Carrollton, was stopped while waiting for the car in front of it to turn and was struck in the rear by Elder's car. Santore then ran into Elder's vehicle.

Nance Will Address Chamber Here Sept. 11

James J. Nance, former head of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., and now president and chief executive officer of Central National Bank of Cleveland, will be the main speaker at the Salem Chamber of Commerce luncheon to be held at the Lape Hotel next Monday, Sept. 11.

This will be the Chamber's first general membership meeting of the fall season. The group did not meet during July and August.

Reservations may be made by phoning Victor C. Ballenger, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Nance has been president and chief executive officer of Central National Bank of Cleveland since early 1960. He went into banking after a management career in industry.

380 Killed In Holiday Traffic

May Be Lowest Total Since 1954

By The Associated Press
Traffic 380
Boating 22
Drowning 69
Miscellaneous 69
Total 529

The pace of traffic deaths on the nation's highways slackened during the closing hours of the long Labor Day weekend and today appeared likely to fall short of the preholiday estimate of 420.

Safety experts said there was a possibility the total might be under 400 and the lowest since the traffic death toll of 364 in the 1954 Labor Day weekend. However, belated reports may boost the total.

The count for the 78-hour holiday period, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, showed 380 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents. Other accidents killed 22 in boating, 58 in drownings and 69 from miscellaneous causes, an over-all toll of 529.

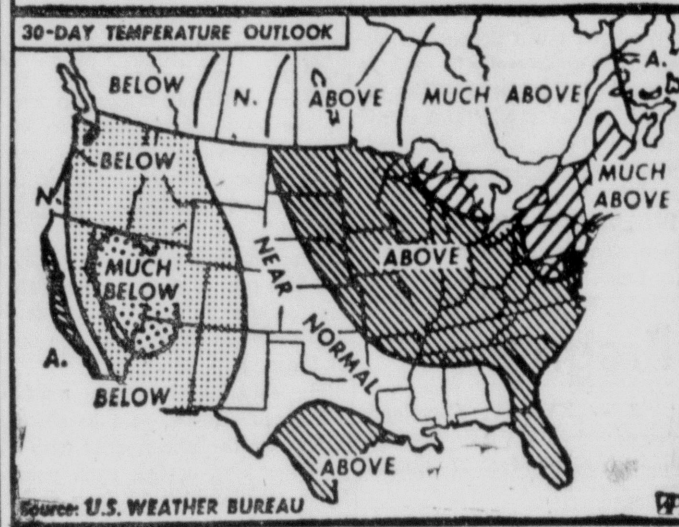

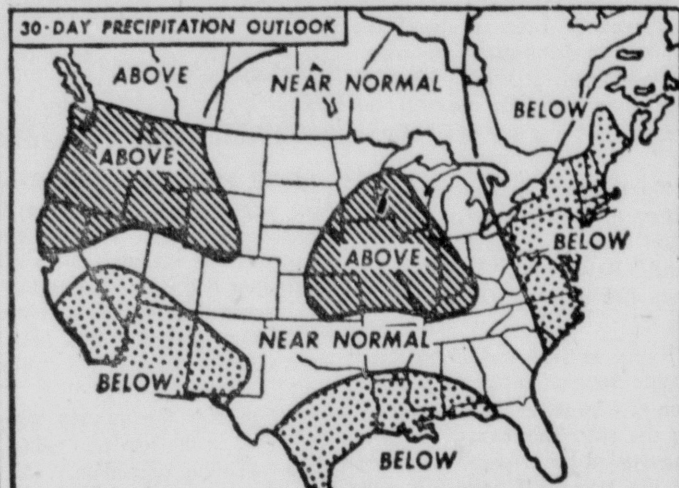

The National Safety Council said it appeared certain that the toll would not reach the 420 the council had estimated before the holiday. The council said it also appeared likely that this year's total would be lower than the 415 killed in traffic accidents in the 1960 three-day Labor Day holiday.

The record death toll for a Labor Day weekend is 461 in 1951. The lowest traffic toll for the holiday weekend in the postwar period was in 1946.

The council said traffic deaths for a nonholiday weekend at this time of year would be 330. However, an Associated Press survey, made for comparative purposes in a 78-hour non-holiday period from Aug. 18 to Aug. 21, showed 390 traffic fatalities. The survey also showed 47 drownings and 97 killed in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 548.

2nd Nuclear Blast Fired by Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy held the door open Tuesday for Soviet acceptance of his proposal to ban nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere despite the Soviet Union's Monday explosion of a nuclear device, her second test in four days.

The new shot in central Asia was announced by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Seaborg said it had a force "in the low kiloton range" and was fired in the atmosphere.

Administration officials said here the development could not be regarded as "encouraging" to U.S. and British hopes that Russia would accept the proposed test ban limitation. Nevertheless, the White House and state department declared the new explosion was not an answer to the proposal.

At Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy, taking a Labor Day weekend rest, cut short a cruise on Nantucket sound to return to his headquarters when word of the AEC report reached him. Andrew Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, then said the United States still hopes that the proposed restriction will be accepted by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In Washington, the state department took the same position and Press Officer Joseph Reap declared the latest Soviet nuclear

California Fires Fought by 5,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A force of 5,000 men fought for the fourth day today to contain an outburst of forest, range and brush fires the length of California.

More than 150,000 acres have been burned over since Saturday in 170 fires that flared from San Diego in the south more than 700 miles to the north.

Forestry officials said damages would run to millions of dollars. More than 150 structures, including a high school gym, private homes and a saw mill, have been gutted. Five persons died from fire-connected causes. The victims included two motorists, the pilot of a chemical bombing plane and two persons who died from heart attacks.

Joint Appeal Asks Easing Of Cold War

Nonaligned Nations May Send Envoys To U.S., Russia

BELGRADE (AP)—The conference of 25 nonaligned nations drew up a joint appeal today to President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev to take urgent new steps to ease the cold war.

Although still divided on a number of issues raised at their conference, the leaders of the conference delegations agreed on a message to be sent to Kennedy and Khrushchev. It was expected to appeal for them to meet once more in an effort to ease tension over Berlin and to seek progress toward disarmament.

Plan Special Delegations

Reports circulated that the conference would send special delegations to Moscow and Washington with the messages. One persistent report said Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana would take the message to Khrushchev, while President Modibo Keita of Mali and either President Sukarno of Indonesia or President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic would go to Washington.

Nehru already has been delegated by the conference to seek Soviet agreement to the U.S.-British proposal to ban nuclear tests on a trip he scheduled prior to coming to Belgrade.

The conference was scheduled to end today, its fifth, but a committee trying to draft a joint communique of agreed policies worked until 5 a.m. and still had a third of its work to do.

Reject E. German Proposal

One Asian member of the drafting committee said the committee received and rejected a proposal to recommend that all 25 nations at the Belgrade conference recognize the Communist East German government. The committee member said the group had approved a draft statement on Germany, Laos and Mauritania "and some other subjects."

The communique was expected to contain many compromises, since it must be acceptable to nations ranging from monarchist Ethiopia to Communist Yugoslavia, from anti-American Cuba to pro Western Cyprus.

Nehru led the faction that wanted to emphasize the war threat and the need for East-West negotiations, preferably at the summit.

But the majority of delegates,

Body of Man Drowned at Berlin Sought

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Portage and Mahoning County Sheriff's deputies today resumed their search for a man tentatively identified as David F. Norman, 41, of Akron. He was believed to have drowned in Berlin Lake in the Deerfield area Monday.

The lake was dragged for several hours after an empty boat was found floating in the area.

Sebring police also searched and said they received a report that a man was seen going down in the lake in the vicinity where the boat was found. The water there is 20 to 50 feet deep.

A woman said she saw a man fall overboard from the boat while bailing out water. Another man, Robert Crawford of Canton, said he saw a man floating face up under just below the surface of the water, but that the body disappeared when he reached to grab it.

But Hayes Isn't Opposed to Idea

It's 'No Fishing'
At City Reservoir

Salem area sportsmen, who for several years have cast covetous eyes at the forbidden fish in the city reservoir south of town, will be happy, and possibly surprised to learn that the man chiefly responsible for looking after the city's water supply is strongly in favor of opening the lake to the public for controlled fishing.

Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities, said he would like to see the 68-acre Salem City Lake opened for fishing on a controlled basis.

When the man-made lake came into existence in the fall of 1952, the Water Commission and City Council decided that fishing should not be permitted, presumably to help protect the city water supply from possible contamination.

When the city started pumping in water from nearby East Cold Run in the fall of 1952, bass, bluegills and other fish from that stream were pumped into the new lake. It was also stocked with pike from Lake Erie.

THE FISH HAVE thrived in the lake and the temptation to throw in a hook and line has been too great for some fishermen who have disregarded the numerous "no fishing" signs posted throughout the area.

"It's been worse this year than ever before," Hayes said.

In fact, the city has had to chase so many would-be fishermen away from the lake this summer that Hayes had to post more "no trespassing" signs and issue a warning that the no-fishing regulations will be strictly enforced.

Four members of the water department have been deputized by the mayor and have the authority to arrest trespassers in the lake area.

Hayes says that a section of state regulations covering water departments provides that a maximum fine of $150 may be levied against violators of the department's no trespassing order.

TOLD THAT FISHERMEN, including some city employees, reportedly have been sighted at the reservoir, Hayes said he has heard such reports.

"It is very difficult to police this area 24 hours a day," the utilities superintendent remarked. "If we catch any city employee fishing in the lake, he will be treated just like any other offender."

"In the past, it has been my policy to give a warning to anybody who is caught the first time," Hayes said. "Thus far, nobody has been caught a second time."

Hayes says he has given some people permission to fish in a section of a canal in the area owned by the city. This canal, which is surrounded by a fence, is located on the Depot Rd., about a mile and a half south of City Lake.

"We have given people permission to get inside the fence to fish in the canal," Hayes said. "There are plenty of bass, catfish, bluegills and other fish in there," he added.

DUE TO THE FACT that Hayes has driven fishermen away from City Lake, many people have the

The shelter folds to the size of a rolled newspaper and is carried on the belt. impression that the utilities superintendent is the one who asked for the no-fishing regulation. "This is far from the truth," Hayes remarked. "We chase people out of there because it is our duty to uphold the law."

"This no fishing regulation was on the books when I came to Salem," Hayes said. "This is one of the few lakes of this type in the state where fishing is prohibited."

"Personally I would like to see the lake opened to controlled fishing, because if it is not, in a few years we will have to net fish out of there."

The superintendent, an avid fisherman himself, said he would like to see the lake stocked with a different kind of fish each year. Since the lake is 39 feet deep, Hayes believes it might be a good spot for trout.

HAYES SAYS HE would like to see a setup here similar to the one at Deer Creek reservoir in Alliance. "Rules were set up to allow controlled fishing and to protect the area at Deer Creek, and there has been absolutely no problem with water contamination there," he commented.

Hayes emphasized the importance of legislating strict controls if the Salem Reservoir is opened to the public. Besides the necessity of keeping the reservoir safe from contamination, protection would be needed for the wildlife area which is one of the most beautiful in the state.

Included among the wildlife that inhabit the area are cranes, beaver, mink, muskrat and many others.

Hayes says that about three or four years ago, the city utilities commission recommended to the water committee of City Council that the lake be open to controlled fishing. He said the issue was discussed but no legislation was ever prepared.

The utilities superintendent said he can not speak for the present utilities commission but Hayes said he has no reason to believe that the commission has changed its mind about being in favor of controlled fishing.

However, it is City Council which must enact legislation if the lake is going to be opened to the public. Hayes says he knows of at least one Council member who at one time was opposed to fishing at the reservoir but now possibly would go along with the idea of controlled fishing there.

If the issue ever does reach the Council floor, with the strong support of the utilities superintendent, the no fishing signs at Salem City Lake could come down.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

The greatest victory of our time has been quietly won in the laboratory, not on the noisy battlefield. . . . medical research has saved an estimated 2,230,132 lives since 1944, more than were lost in all the wars the United States ever fought.

Prosperity note: U.S. banks last year handled 13 billion checks. (Whatever happened to cash? Is everybody mad at it?)

Here's something to be grateful for: 9 out of 10 men who want to grow a beard give up within a week.

Did you know vanilla comes from one of more than 20,000 varieties of orchids? . . . Vanilla is still the most popular ice cream flavor, outselling all other flavors combined.

Tip to tourists: In Michigan the road to Hell is paved with more than good intentions. . . . You can go to Hell there by driving to it from a town called Paradise.

Women are invading en masse outdoor sports once popular chiefly with men. . . . fishing is a big example. . . . One out of four anglers now wears lipstick.

Our quotable notables: "To the average man, doomed to some banal and sordid drudgery all his life long, women offer the only grand hazard he ever encounters. Take them away and his existence would be as flat and secure as that of a milk cow."—H.L. Mencken.

Odd legislation: In Sweden it once was against the law to drink coffee. . . . In early 17th century England women were banned from becoming either druggists or doctors.

Signs of the times: "This one was posted in a California awning store: 'Come in, and get the shadiest deal in town!'"

Had your eyes checked lately? It is believed that nearly 1.25 million Americans have glaucoma without knowing it. . . . and may lose their sight if untreated.

Prolific presidents: John Tyler had the most children of any White House tenant—15 by two wives. . . . William Henry Harrison led in later descendants. . . . He had 48 grandchildren and 106 great-grandchildren.

Those spicy Americans: We have only about one sixteenth of the global population, but we use almost a third of the world's output of pepper.

Wisecrack of the week: Walter Slezak says he knows a bold man so two-faced he has to wear a fourpence!

Worth remembering: "Men have their faces on our money, but it's the women who have their hands on it."

You think you've got a weight problem? . . . Grizzly bears gain up to three pounds a day during the summer. . . . But unlike you, they can hibernate and sleep it off.

It was Dorothy Dix who observed, "Drying a widow's tears is one of the most dangerous occupations known to man."

Be Alert For This!

Those school crosswalks are going to be busy places tomorrow, Mr. Motorist. Keep alert! Some of those youngsters are eager for their first day in school and they're apt to forget about traffic dangers. The responsibility rests with YOU!

Chest X-Rays Are Important

Through the cooperation of the Salem City Health Department and the state health department, Salem citizens will be afforded an opportunity this week to obtain free chest X-rays.

And it will be convenient for persons to visit the X-ray mobile because it will be parked on South Broadway in front of the Strouss-Hirschberg store Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The importance of frequent chest X-rays is stressed time and again by the medical profession. It is the best means of detecting tuberculosis, cancer or other signs of chest abnormalities, and the individual who shrugs off the idea or says he hasn't time for the two-minute examination is foolish indeed, doctors say.

There are several TB and cancer patients in Salem who might have been spared the disease if they had taken the time several years ago to have their chests X-rayed.

The importance of the physical examinations is underlined by the fact that the County Health Department will sponsor the appearance of the state unit in the various county communities beginning Sept. 18.

This important job once was done by the County Public Health League. The city and county health boards are to be commended for resuming it.

The Relief Is Only Temporary

Government officials say the Berlin crisis has had at least one happy financial result.

Reports reaching Washington show that the European developments have strengthened the dollar in foreign markets. The explanation is that speculators are jittery and are reluctant to hold European currencies and, at present, the dollar looks like a relatively safe haven.

Another happy, though temporary, financial windfall for the United States was reported by the Department of Commerce. The Office of Business Economics of the department has just announced that our balance of payments showed a substantial improvement during the second quarter of this year as a result of extraordinary repayments of loans by three countries.

The Auxiliary Police

On special occasions and in times of emergency Salem's Auxiliary Police respond quickly. When the storm struck suddenly Saturday evening, they were on duty in a matter of minutes to direct traffic and to keep the curious spectators from danger.

The unsung patrolmen get little public praise for their work yet they are performing a real service. It sometimes takes an unscheduled event to remind us of their value.

Once Over

Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg will be lucky if he isn't called on to settle the Maris-Mantle-Ruth crisis, all disputes between pedestrians and cops over "Don't Walk" signs and the Bizerte trouble. By taking over settlement of Metropolitan Opera strike, he automatically becomes Utility Outfielder of the Year, Most Versatile Cabinet Member, All-American, All-Purpose Tackle and Washington's Mister Fixit.

There he stands in good voice in the costume of a combination Wagnerian hero, Merlin the Magician, the One-Armed Pivotal Hanger With the Hives and greatest rival of Louis Arroyo of the Yankees as a relief pitcher.

Although a great advocate of the shorter working day and the easier life, Mr. Goldberg looks like one of the most over-worked men in America. He can't take time out for a coffee break, especially at a time when he may get sidetracked by an automobile strike, while rapping on the podium for sweet music.

The secretary of labor looks strange in the field of grand opera, but he is attracting as much attention as some of the all-time opera singers.

The Met will open with Puccini's "Girl of the Golden West" and it will be Goldberg's "Boy of the New Frontier."

President Kennedy is the real rescue chief, of course, and you must hand it to a chief executive who can leap from the barbed wire of East Berlin to orchestra pit of New York grand opera, take time out for Khrushchev and Ulbricht to consider Bing, Manutti and Tony Bliss, and switch from spaceships and atomic war threats to the world of clarinets, fiddles and oboes. (He will not be pushed out of Berlin or the Met Opera House.)

The world can certainly use more music.

Maybe Jacqueline had her tiara and opera gowns all bought, and the Democrats are determined not to allow unemployment to spread among opera stars, throat-sprayers, diamond insurance salesmen and costume designers.

But Arthur Goldberg rates a big hand. Handling tugboat men, waterfront disturbances, and auto world battles can be easier than handling temperamental opera stars and unhappy fiddlers.

Happiest man in Washington must be Secretary Rusk. The grand opera crisis was one thing he wasn't asked to settle.

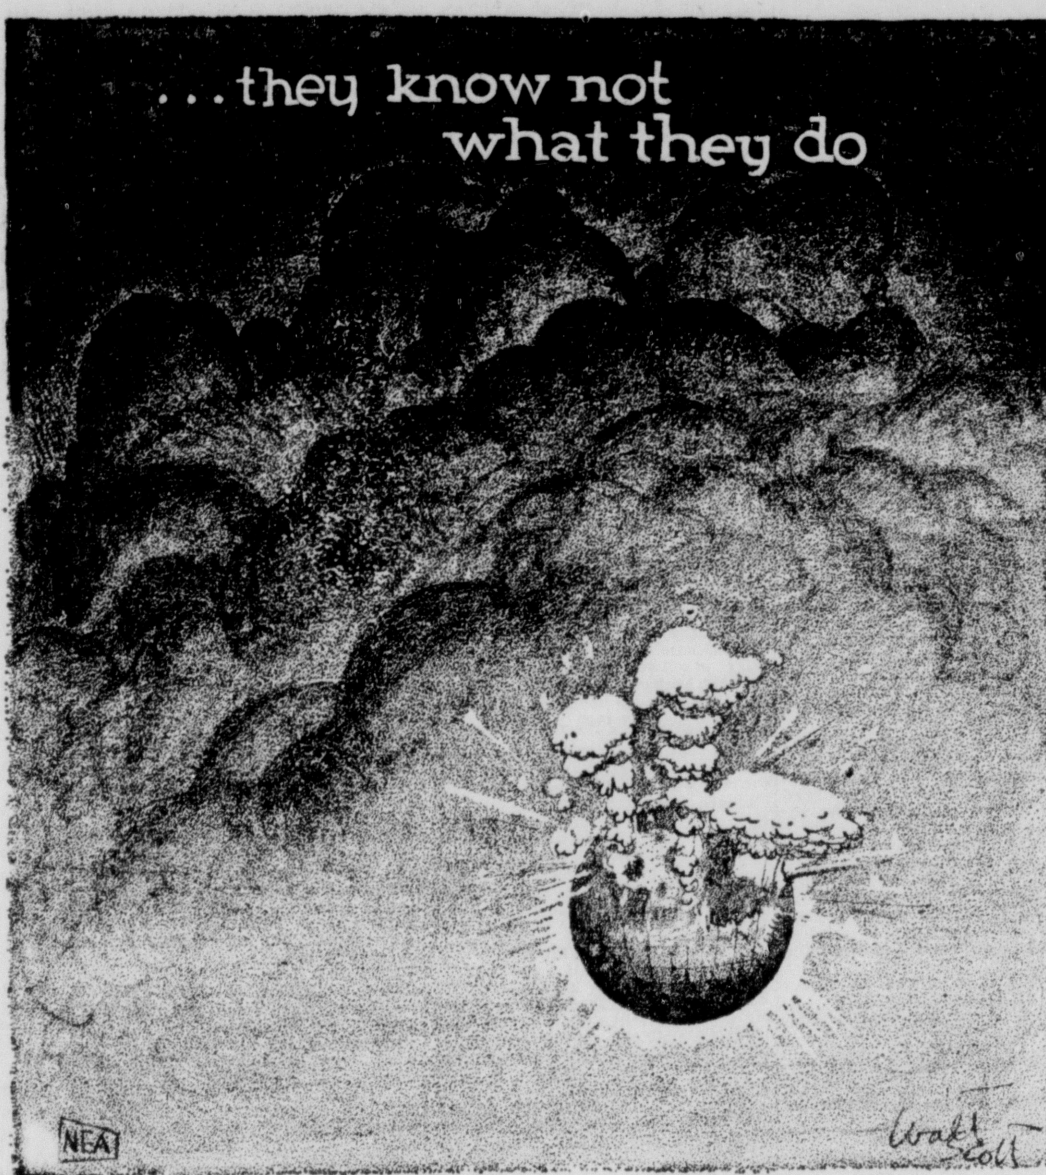

GRASSHOPPERS and toads were found on Park Ave. the other day near some of those new modernistic skyscrapers. Insects have as much trouble as human beings identifying those buildings and ascertaining their purpose.

Purposes, it is claimed, drive sharks from waters near shore. The sharks are evidently frightened by acrobats, wet or dry.

Joao Goulart, veep of Brazil, and allegedly a friend of the U.S.S.R. is one of the richest ranchers in country. He is a colorful showman and likes to appear on horseback in cowboy costume. This cowboy twist marks him as a dangerous man, especially if he gets on TV much. We don't know how it is in Brazil but in some countries a cowboy and cowpony act can win over all opposition programs.

Senate subcommittee says juvenile delinquency is showing alarming increase in white-collar families. Chairman Thomas Dodd points out that delinquency is evident in small communities and even rural zones. The good home isn't what it used to be, perhaps, because there is so much less time spent inside it.

Father, Forgive Them

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Those who knew what happened in Conference Room 3136 in the Labor Department on Monday, Aug. 28, had the clues to Walter Reuther's strategy. Yet Detroit was never discussed there or in the office of Labor Secretary Goldberg that forenoon.

Victor Riesel

It was the Metropolitan labor "crisis" and not the motor industry which was the subject of the day. There was no crackling air of urgency. No aides rushed in with whispered messages. No phone calls interrupted the secretary.

Though the auto climax was but 72 hours away, the only mention of vehicles came when Mr. Goldberg was questioned about the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of art hanging on the walls of his headquarters.

He explained that the paintings were borrowed from New York and Baltimore museums but because the government had no allowances for such decor, he had had to pay the trucking charges, the fees and the insurance out of his own pocket.

MR. G LOVES ART but he's a realist. He would not have sat calmly if he thought that the auto industry was about to be shut down by Reuther. Goldberg would not have permitted the President to be caught in this bind right at the height of the Berlin crisis.

When, in midday, Goldberg did talk to John Kennedy, they discussed the opera and Mr. Secretary reported back that the President was glad that the Russians could not attack us as a country so enamored of dollars that we could not keep our opera alive.

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Goldberg felt the White House would not need to intervene. Mr. Reuther had passed on word that he believed the Big Three would not want to be shut down and thus permit the American Motors Corp. to gobble up the market.

Mr. Reuther based his belief on the knowledge that national auto strikes usually are long stoppages. This industry does not yield easily once a walkout starts.

SHORT STRIKES build union strength. The worker says, look at what we got for just a two-week walkout.

And a long strike, just when the Big Three's new models are being shown, would give AMC the market. Furthermore, Mr. Reuther had passed on word that he would hit only General Motors. This would permit the other companies to continue producing.

Thus there would be no threat, he reckoned, to the health, safety and welfare of the nation. This would mean the White House would not have to move in with a Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling-off-period injunction as it did in the last great steel unpleasantness and the recent maritime strike (still under court order).

There is precedent for such inaction. The White House did not move in '58 when auto union locals struck GM for some six weeks in a series of rolling local walkouts. They ran long after the national contract was signed in Detroit.

This could happen again. GM locals have presented thousands of demands. Two thousand of these are considered "serious." Especially those on the "pace of the line" in assembly plants where regional leaders want to help make the decisions on production speeds.

STILL THE White House would not have to do more than deplore and pressure a bit. This could be done by the mediation people and, of course, Mr. Goldberg.

For the moment all this satisfied the White House. The President has not yet hammered out his labor policy. Mr. Kennedy wants it to come from his 21-man labor-management advisory committee.

He doesn't relish getting tough on his own in this field. If possible, he wants a formula which would end the crisis long before the nation starts yelling for the White House.

There is such a formula. It is a complex 12-page report. It was finished only two weeks ago at a meeting of the industrial peace sub-committee of this 21-man advisory board. This came too late for the auto crisis. The formula won't be handed to the President until this winter, for it won't be presented to the full committee until mid-October.

It gives Mr. Kennedy what he wants — the technique for preventing national strikes without use of court injunctions — and long before the threatened walkouts become an emergency.

IN EFFECT, the formula calls for nursing a potential conflict months in advance of a contract expiration.

This could be done by calling in both sides, sitting them down with men of national stature and unimpeachable reputations for untouchable objectivity. It will be used plenty.

The public may have forgotten — but Messrs. Kennedy and Goldberg have not — that the railroad and harbor-crippling tugboat strike of New York; the national railroad full crew crisis; the airline flight engineers threat, and the maritime strike still haven't been settled.

Anyone of them could paralyze the nation's transport. And the nation's steel contracts expire in mid-1962.

It does look like it will be a hot winter.

Khrushchev's Motive

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Wanted To Develop New Nuclear Devices

In appraising the significance of the decision of the Soviets to resume nuclear testing, it is important to bear in mind that the an on tests in the last three years has not meant any ban on the designing and development of new weapons on the drawing board and in the laboratories. Inventors, engineers and scientists have had no ban placed on their mental operations or research activities.

The Soviets undoubtedly have reached the point where, in order to develop or perfect their designs, they now need to make full-scale tests of some of their devices — tests that cannot be conducted underground and remain undetected. So they cover up this phase with a lot of hokey charging the Western Allies with a planned aggression.

The occasion is used to try to scare the West into a surrender on the Berlin issue.

It has long been suspected that the whole controversy over the nuclear-test ban was started by the Soviets for selfish reasons. A worldwide propaganda was initiated by the Communists which was aided and abetted by sincere and well-meaning scientists, politicians and ordinary citizens in the West who were naively inclined to believe that Moscow really wanted to avert nuclear warfare and that the test ban was the first step toward disarmament.

Actually, it begins to appear now that the Soviets knew in 1958 that the United States was two or three years ahead in the technology of nuclear weapons. Moscow wanted time to catch up — to digest its own information and develop devices to the testing point while making sure that the West would be suspending its tests.

THE UNITED STATES government, being responsive to the public opinion that had been created, went along on the voluntary ban on testing. The impression that had been given to peoples everywhere was that a suspension of testing was somehow related to an early abolition of the use of nuclear weapons themselves.

Now the simple fact stares everybody in the face — the Soviets not only are openly resuming tests but they talk of new and more terrible weapons than have ever before been conceived. How can they know this except by having carried on tests?

Have their designs had the benefit of secret tests heretofore and given them some ideas which were converted into threats in the latest Soviet pronouncement?

Moscow took advantage of the opportunity also to apply pressure on the political front, and thought all this was worth the risk of alienating world opinion.

Incidentally, Rep. Chet Holifield of California, chairman of the House-Senate atomic energy committee, makes a good point in his latest statement, which says:

"The announcement that the

David Lawrence

Soviet Union will resume atmospheric testing makes a mockery out of their former position of opposing atmospheric tests on the grounds that it would contaminate the globe with radioactive contamination."

DR. EDWARD TELLER, the noted physicist who is often referred to as the "father of the H-bomb," has just repeated his belief that fallout from nuclear tests is not necessarily dangerous. He says:

"Fallout is a red herring. . . We should not be frightened of the big bang — but rather of the knowledge the Russians have gained through testing before they started this rocket rattling."

"If Khrushchev says he can make a 100 megaton bomb, he has good evidence he can do it. The best evidence he can have is from smaller tests which could have been carried out without the slightest difficulty, and with no chance whatever that we could detect it."

At the Pentagon and at the Atomic Energy Commission, there were sighs of relief when the news came that Russia was openly resuming tests, thus ending the self-imposed test ban for the United States for it gives America a chance to forge ahead with its own nuclear tests.

Indeed, our drawing boards, too, have been accumulating new designs that need to be tried out in actual tests.

There are, to be sure, enough nuclear weapons available today for each side to destroy the other but the big thing now is to prevent the other fellow from retaliating.

The Soviets, it is reported, will test a whole range of new weapons which are intended to destroy 95 per cent of an enemy's retaliatory power by striking the "first blow."

UP TO NOW, the threat of "massive retaliation" has been a deterrent to such an attack by the Soviets but if a weapon is developed that can destroy instantly all our bases from which missiles can be fired and at the same time interferes for at least nine hours with the operation of radio, which is vital to the flight of manned bombers, then a truly dangerous situation presents itself.

What can the free world do about it? It can, of course, give its own scientists the green light for experimentation and tests. But it can also concentrate on how to reach the people behind the Iron Curtain with the truth about the distorted statements made by the Soviet leaders concerning the alleged intentions of the West to go to war.

Peoples alone can put a restraining hand on reckless rulers. The invention of a more effective way to reach the people of the Soviet Union is long overdue.

Scientists and inventors could well work long hours every day to perfect new systems of communication while American policy makers concurrently would do well to develop policies that will unite the free world and alert peoples everywhere to the dangers of Communist subversion and deception.

No Coronary Mild

The term mild coronary is "seriously misleading," three Philadelphia physicians say.

Although the symptoms may be relatively mild, the underlying cause may be serious. Drs. William Likoff, Sheldon Bender and Leonard Dreifus said in the current Journal of the American Medical Association.

A coronary, or heart attack, is caused by a blood clot that blocks one or both of the two coronary arteries that nourish the heart. The underlying cause is hardening of these arteries.

On the basis of a study of 100 patients over a five-year period the authors said, it appears that a mild heart attack resulting from an incomplete evolution of a major attack may very well recur within a short time and exact a more severe penalty. Mild attacks from occlusions of very small arterial branches are less significant.

Of the total number of patients, 48 per cent suffered a second heart attack within five years after recovering from the initial attack, they reported. Some second attacks occurred within 12 months. The death rate among those stricken a second time was 18 per cent.

In terms of chronic disability, recurrences, and ultimate mortality, the fate of these patients resembled that of persons with significant, if not advanced, hardening of the coronary arteries, the authors said.

"This study strongly implies that whatever protective measures are currently available should be applied for an absolute minimum of two years following the initial attack, especially when the symptoms . . . persist," the authors concluded.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My name is John. I am 10 years old. I have a dog. His name is "Beat." We named him that because that is how he looked when he was born.

My problem is that I like to have "Beat" in my bed at night when I go to sleep. My mother is against it. I sneaked him in a couple of times and she caught me. She was very cross. Mom says dogs should not be in bed with people because it is not healthy. I am in good health. So is my dog. What is wrong with a nice clean dog being in bed with people? We give him a bath every week.

Please print my letter in the paper so my mother can see it. Thank you.—JOHN.

Dear John: If your mother doesn't want you to have "Beat" in your bed, that should settle it. I can understand why she feels as she does because I feel the same way.

On the other hand, many of my friends tell me that when they were children their mothers didn't mind the dog's sleeping in their beds and nobody got sick from it.

Unkept Promise

Dear Ann: I'm a practical nurse, 48, and unmarried. Four years ago my grandmother's sister became bedridden. She was a well-to-do widow but so disagreeable they couldn't get a nurse who would stay with her for more than a week. They asked me, as a favor to the family, to take the case. I agreed.

Aunt Hattie told me she was putting me in her will for a large part of her estate and therefore I would receive only "pocket money" ($20 a week) plus room and board. She said I'd never have to work again after she died.

Two weeks ago they buried her. Yesterday the family gathered around for the reading of the will. My name was not mentioned. I told her daughter, who inherited the bulk of the estate, about Aunt Hattie's promise. She replied, "That's ridiculous. You were paid weren't you?"

When I told her of our arrangement she snapped, "If Mama paid you $20 a week that's all she thought you were worth."

Can I sue the estate? Please answer in print. I don't care if the whole town reads this.—QUEEN OF THE CHUMPS.

Dear Queen: It's easy to be a Monday morning quarterback but the agreement should have been in writing. Now you must hire a lawyer to see that justice is done.

Confidentially

TO THE SUCKER: The next time he tells you how sorry he is that he left his wallet in his other pants, give him bus fare and tell him to go home and get his other pants.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Little Rock To Integrate Five Schools

By The Associated Press
Four years after the first school was integrated under the bayonet of federal troops, Little Rock today is to desegregate a technical high school and four junior high schools with no disorder anticipated.

Police will stand guard as 48 Negroes enter Central and Hall high schools, previously integrated, and the five additional schools.

But officials saw no indication of recurrence of trouble such as marked the integration of Central High School in 1957 when Gov. Orval Faubus called out the National Guard to block integration and federal troops were sent in to enforce it. Faubus closed the schools in 1958, and police beat back a demonstration in 1959. There was no disorder last year.

Public schools will be integrated this week for the first time in Dallas and Galveston, Tex., and Daytona Beach, Fla. New Orleans will begin its second year of desegregation.

Police measures similar to those which accomplished orderly desegregation of four Atlanta high schools last week, will be in effect in New Orleans where angry demonstrations marked admission of four Negro girls to two elementary schools last year.

The New Orleans schools, largely boycotted by white students last year, will re-open on a desegregated basis Thursday. Less than 10 Negroes will be admitted to four other white schools at a later date.

Police barricades will go up around all six schools Thursday. The 1,100-man police force has been ordered on a 12-hour day and the Justice Department is sending 60 U.S. marshals to the city. Dallas also has made extensive plans for beginning integration, including police measures to quell any disturbance. Business and civic leaders also have carried on a campaign to create a climate of acceptance.

No trouble is anticipated in Florida as Miami desegregates nine more schools and two Negro girls begin attending school with white children in Daytona Beach today.

Body of Lake Victim Is New York Man

YOUNGSTOWN—The nude body found floating in Lake Newport Sunday evening was identified yesterday as that of a 31-year-old Bronxville, N. Y., biochemist who was a guest at the Tod Hotel.

Deputy coroner Nathan D. Belinky was withholding the man's name until his relatives in New York could be reached.

Dr. Belinky ruled that the Bronxville man drowned in the lake but was still investigating to determine if the drowning was suicide or accidental.

A Youngstown woman, who was fishing at the lake Sunday told police yesterday that she saw a pile of clothes folded neatly on the east bank of the lake.

FIRE CALLS ANSWERED

Firemen answered three calls over the weekend, including one to Prospect School at 3:56 p.m. Monday where lightning knocked out the alarm system. No estimate of the damage was given.

Another call came at 7:55 p.m. Monday when a car caught fire on E. State St. after its oil gasket let loose. The auto is owned by Roy Bowers of Alliance.

On Saturday at 2 p.m. firemen were called to the residence of Ward Eckstein, 1215 Jennings Ave., where an incinerator was smoking.

HONORED AT WELLSVILLE

Frank C. Wilson, a Columbiana County commissioner, has been named Wellsville's "Outstanding Citizen of 1961" by the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce. A plaque was presented to Wilson, a Democrat, at the annual Jaycees Labor Day parade last night.

Edward Heim, 64, of 892 N. Martin St., Lisbon, lacerations of the scalp and face and contusions of the chest.

Mrs. Herrington, whose home is RD 2, East Liverpool, is listed in fair condition while the two Lisbon men are fairly good.

According to the patrol, Mrs. Herrington, driving west on Pidgeon Rd., failed to obey a stop sign and was struck by the auto operated by Gerwig which was headed south on the Depot Rd. Heim was a passenger in Gerwig's car.

Autos Demolished

Both vehicles were demolished. Mrs. Herrington was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

No one was injured in a two-car crash on County Rd. 433, one and a half miles west of East Palestine, at 5:25 p.m. Monday.

Cars driven by Alexander Simpson, 61, of RD 2, East Palestine and Robert A. Brognano, 21, of Beaver Falls, Pa., collided almost head-on at an arched railroad bridge. Both drivers were cited by the patrol for driving left of center.

Robert Beaumont, 17, of 288 W. 8th St., escaped injury Monday when he lost control of his car and struck some drive approach markers on Rt. 9, a half-mile south of Salem. The patrol said Beaumont's car went out of control after he applied his brakes to slow up for an approaching vehicle which was left of center. The other car did not stop, the Patrol reported.

Paul Kuhns, 43, of 119½ N. Market St., Lisbon, was cited for failing to stop in an assured distance after his car struck the rear of an auto operated by Terry E. Trimmer, 19, of Steubenville, Monday on Rt. 172 near New Garden. The Patrol said Trimmer was stopped, waiting to make a left turn, when Trimmer, approaching from the rear, was unable to get stopped.

Airlines Flying Berlin Routes Grow Jittery

BERLIN (AP)—The three Western airlines flying to West Berlin are growing jittery over the Soviet and East German Communist threats to control the three air corridors they have been using for almost 16 years.

Pan American, British European Airways and Air France are pondering how long they can continue to fly to airfields in the Communist-surrounded city.

East Germany's Red regime, backed by the Soviets, has made threatening noises and even suggested this civilian travel be directed to their own East Berlin airport, Schoenefeld.

The men who fly the planes say the Communists could control the corridors — and force their companies to stop flying — without using fighter planes.

The East Germans could break into the radio navigation beam, creating a hazardous blank for the pilot landing or taking off. Or the Soviets could withdraw their personnel from the four-power air safety center that polices the corridors. That would turn the air over Berlin into something of a jungle.

In either case, said one flying officer, the safety hazard would be too great for the companies to continue flying.

Flying to Berlin already is tricky enough, the pilots contend. They are forced to fly no higher than 10,000 feet and inside a corridor that gives no room for error.

Berlin is a foggy area in November and December. That is the period this year when the Soviets claim they are going to solve the German problem with a peace treaty. The East Germans say they then will be the arbiters of traffic to West Berlin — by land, sea and air.

Ohio Bell Appoints District Plant Head

James R. Meehan of Cleveland has been appointed Ohio Bell's Youngstown district plant superintendent, replacing Ernest O. Miller, who was transferred to a new post in Cleveland.

Meehan has been with Ohio Bell there since 1947. He started out as a cable splicer's helper and later became a lineman and an engineering assistant. In 1949 he was made a motor vehicle foreman and in 1951 was promoted to supervisor of motor vehicles. His most recent assignment has been that of buildings superintendent. Meehan earned his bachelor of science in mechanical engineering degree from Case Institute of Technology in 1947. During World War II he was a captain in the U. S. Air Force.

Kenmar Conference Scheduled Thursday

EAST PALESTINE—The fourth meeting between the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. and striking production workers has been set for 11 a.m. Thursday at the New Waterford Bank. The meeting was arranged by Charles Duesing of Akron, a federal conciliator.

At the third meeting last Thursday, Kenmar offered the 120 strikers a six-month extension of the original contract which expired Aug. 15. The workers in turn countered with a year's extension of the original contract, which was rejected by the management. The strike entered its fourth week today.

Clean-Up Of Third Derailment Underway

EAST PALESTINE — Heavy equipment has been moved on the scene of a freight train derailment which occurred Saturday morning near the W. S. George Pottery Co. It was the third derailment in two weeks.

Twelve cars of the 121-car Pennsylvania Railroad train were derailed. A broken rail in New Waterford caused the front wheels of the 79th car to leave the tracks. When the car hit the switch at the pottery, that car and the next 11 were derailed.

The cars overturned included seven empty ones, and one each loaded with bricks, sand, lumber and automobile tires. Firemen were summoned to the overturned tanktype car, which was at first believed to contain industrial alcohol. Later investigations showed it to be empty.

Ohio's soybean production of 31 million bushels places it sixth among states of the Union in such production.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. George Beebe

Funeral services were held today at Lakeside for Mrs. Frances Beebe, wife of Rev. George Beebe, a former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, who died of a heart attack Saturday in a Sandusky Hospital.

Mrs. Beebe had suffered from a heart ailment for several years, but had been in the hospital for the past month.

Her husband, who was pastor here from 1947 to 1950, was named a year ago by the Methodist Conference to be manager at Lakeside.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Beebe is survived by a daughter, Carol Jo.

Mrs. Will Chappell

ALLIANCE — Mrs. K. Maud Chappell, 78, of 141 E. Columbia St. died at Maple View Nursing Home at 6 p.m. Sunday after an illness of three months.

moratorium on nuclear testing the Soviet government had decided to resume tests.

On Friday, the AEC announced that the first shot had been fired, although Moscow made no report of it at all.

Sunday, Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan formally proposed to Khrushchev that the three nuclear powers agree to ban further bursts in the earth's atmosphere. They set next Saturday as a deadline for Khrushchev's reply.

Thus the test firing Sunday morning, as reported by the AEC, came within 24 hours after the U.S.-British proposal was made.

here to be sworn in after the nation's three military chiefs agreed to let him become a figurehead president under a new parliamentary system vesting the real power in a prime minister elected by Congress.

It had been expected that Goulart would be inaugurated sometime this week to succeed Janio Quadros, whose resignation in a huff Aug. 25 touched off the prolonged crisis and brought the nation close to civil war.

The three service chiefs had blocked Goulart's succession, contending his leftist tendencies would open the way to Communist turmoil. They yielded Sunday night.

WHAT...

WHAT is the point of spending more billions on federal electric power systems when the investor-owned electric light and power companies can supply all the additional electricity the nation will need?

WHAT advantages can be claimed for such needless spending at any time, much less when the federal budget is already hard-pressed to meet our many defense requirements?

WHAT is the reason why certain pressure groups oppose the sound principle of letting American industry do the jobs it can do best—and restricting government to the jobs that only government can do?

WHAT is the reason for asking the government to spend money needlessly when it can get money instead—through the additional taxes the investor-owned electric companies will produce if they supply all of the power for the future?

The answers to all of these questions are important to you—because they can help curb further waste of your tax money.

Columbiana Woman to Work Among Indians For 1 Year

COLUMBIANA — The Zion Hill Church of the Brethren held a consecration service Sunday morning and a fellowship supper in the evening for Mrs. Hazel Bartholow of RD 1, Columbiana, who has been commissioned by the Brethren Church brotherhood board at Elgin, Ill., to work among the Indians at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

500 Attend Dedication of New School

About 500 persons attended the dedication ceremonies Sunday at the new Crestview High School in the Fairfield-Waterford School District.

More than 1,500 persons inspected the building.

E. S. Kerr, former Salem school superintendent, was the guest speaker.

Robert Beatty of East Liverpool, architect, turned the keys of the new building over to Wayne Rupert school board president.

Joseph Driscoll, district superintendent, and James L. McBride, county school superintendent, spoke briefly.

Rev. Mark George, pastor of the East Fairfield Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Rotarians to Hear Former Yankee Star

Tommy Henrich of Massillon, a former outfielder for the New York Yankees, will speak to Salem Rotary Club members Tuesday noon in the Memorial Building.

Robert McCulloch, Jr., is program chairman.

LODGE MEETING SET

Perry Grange will meet Wednesday evening at 8:30 for the annual election of officers. Each family is to bring donuts.

Mrs. Bartholow is the widow of Carl Bartholow, who lost his life in the explosion at the Columbiana Boiler Co. April 24. She volunteered for the job.

She has been assigned to the office of religious guidance at the government's Indian School at Albuquerque. She will be provided with room and board, her travel expense to Albuquerque, and a monthly allowance of $10.

She has been a leader in the Zion Hill Church where she teaches a class, and serves as church organist, assistant primary superintendent and chairman of the Ministerial Board.

Mrs. Bartholow has three children. Richard is the pastor of Rockview Mennonite Church in Youngstown. Her son John and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Mellinger, reside in Columbiana.

PANDORA REBEKAH Lodge will hold a benefit at the Union Bank on Saturday, reports Irene Hum, chairman of the ways and means committee. The proceeds will go for School of Instruction.

Booster Club members will sell season tickets to the Clipper football games and also enroll new members under the dual slogan "Clippers-Join the Boosters" that will hang above their display in the merchants tent at the street fair this week.

The Historical Society needs a Civil War uniform. The club will have a Civil War display in Smith's Furniture Store during the Street Fair and the piece of clothing will finish their display. Call Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick or Mrs. Allan White.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

LISBON — The Kiwanis Club will hold its annual pancake and sausage supper Sep. 14 at the Methodist Church. Officers will be elected at the club's weekly meeting Thursday noon at the Christian Church. Reports will be given by delegates who attended the Kiwanis International convention in Toronto in July.

DRIVING OR FLYING? — The answer is "both," when you speak of how actor Robert Cummings gets to and from work. • At top, Cummings is all set to leave airport near his Beverly Hills, Calif., home in plane with detachable wings. • Below, after day's work on TV location at Palm Springs, Cummings drives his auto-plane to a nearby airport. He'll fly home in 30 minutes.

Police Curtail Booze-Fueled Riots

Hundreds of Youths Cited After Violent Disturbances

By The Associated Press
Booze-fueled youthful hijinks erupted into violent disturbances in a half dozen states over the Labor Day weekend. Police arrested hundreds, aided in some cases by fire hoses and snarling dogs.

Ocean City, Md.; Lake George, N.Y.; Clermont, Ind.; Hampton Beach, N.H.; Wildwood, N.J.; Russell's Point, Ohio; and Falmouth and Hyannis, Mass., felt the brunt of the youthful violence.

At Hyannis, a few miles from where President Kennedy was weekendending at his Cape Cod home, 140 young people were arrested for disorderliness or drunkenness.

Retarded School to Begin Wednesday

The opening session of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's School at Elkhart will be held Wednesday.

The school station wagon will pick up the students for the full day of school to be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The students are to bring their lunches.

Mrs. Harold Martsolf, principal, reports an enrollment of 31. Assisting her with the teaching duties are Ms. Hugh Everett of Salem and Mrs. Charles Bibbee of East Liverpool.

Boy Breaks Shoulder In Football Game

BOY RUNS INTO TRAIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michael Huffnagle, 17, suffered a skull fracture Monday when he accidentally ran into the side of a slow-moving Nickel Plate locomotive at the rear of an auto wrecking yard at 2426 W. 25th St. He was reported in fair condition at Lutheran Hospital.

John E. Sewolich, owner of the wrecking company, told police Michael and some other youths were running from him after he had shouted at them to stop shooting at pigeons with air rifles.

GOP WOMEN TO MEET

The Salem Republican Women's Club will meet Sept. 18 at 7:45 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, instead of Wednesday which was announced in error.

Adjournment Fever Spurs Congress To Big Work Load

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plans to tackle more work this week than it has in any full month this session.

Spurring this heavy load is the prospect of final adjournment by the end of next week.

Bills involving appropriations of billions of dollars, limited assistance for schools, and a wide range of other subjects are on the dockets of both the House and Senate.

Some of them are controversial enough to stir up several days' debate each under normal conditions.

But conditions aren't normal now. When adjournment fever sets in Congress can get a lot of work done in little time.

Both branches plan to pass a scaled-down school aid bill, now that hope has been abandoned for a more comprehensive program advocated by President Kennedy.

The modified measure would continue federal help for public schools in areas where there has been a heavy influx of federal workers and would renew the student loan program. The House vote on the school bill is set for Wednesday, the Senate's for Thursday.

The House may pass today a bill appropriating $3,357,500 for the foreign aid program. It hopes to follow through on Thursday with a multibillion-dollar appropriation bill for federal public works projects. Except for a final catch-all measure, they are the last two money bills of the session.

The school bill tops a list of 24 measures on Wednesday's House program. Most are of secondary nature.

The National Park Service and the National Geographic Society have completed excavation of Long House, a major cave city in Colorado's Wetherill Mesa.

Palmer, 22, who is so dangerous he is even feared by his fellow prisoners, was pulled sputtering from the murky water, barefoot and clad in light prison clothing.

Mrs. Randolph took the field glasses, made sure it was a man and informed a prison officer who dispatched a boatload of guards to the buoy.

Mrs. Randolph said, "Ronnie had the glasses when I thought I saw a man's arm on a buoy out in the river."

Mrs. Randolph took the field glasses, made sure it was a man and informed a prison officer who dispatched a boatload of guards to the buoy.

TWO YOUTHS ESCAPE

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Construction going on at the Lake County jail enabled two boys to escape from the juvenile detention center in the building Monday.

Because of the construction, the sheriff's department said, three boys had to go outside and around the building to return dinner dishes and trays to the jail kitchen. Two of the boys broke away from a guard and disappeared into downtown Painesville, triggering a countywide search.

Patrol Auxiliary To See Accident Film

The film, "Signal 30," will be screened when the State Highway Patrol Auxiliary of Columbiana County holds its monthly meeting Wednesday night at 8 at the American Legion Home here.

The film shows views of accidents seen by patrolmen arriving on the scene.

The program is open to any interested individuals or groups, and teen-agers are especially invited, Auxiliary Captain Bill Schaeffer said.

Schaeffer and Patrolman Walter Jones of the Lisbon barracks will be in charge of the program.

PROMOTED BY FIRM

CINCINNATI (AP) — C. R. Irvine is the new operations manager for Avco Corp's Electronics and Ordnance Division plant in Richmond, Ind., the company reported today. Irvine started with the old Crosley Corp. As an assembler and a welder.

Hunter, Trombold To Meet In County Tennis Finals

Final action in the Columbian County Open Tennis Tournament has been rescheduled for next Saturday after being postponed by rain yesterday.

The quarter-finals and the semi-finals were played Sunday.

In singles action, slated for 1 p.m., last year's champ, Dave Hunter, will battle Bob Trombold of East Palestine. Hunter advanced to the finals by beating Ray Rogers 6-2, 6-2 in the quarter-finals and Maurice Young 6-4, 6-3 in the semi-finals. Trombold downed Phil Wenner of Lisbon 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 and Dick Hunter 7-5, 7-3.

In doubles play, last year's winning team of Dick Hunter and Dave Hunter will meet Trombold and Martin.

The Hunter brothers downed Al Parker and Bob Campbell 6-2, 6-4 in the quarter-finals and Wenner and Gordon Scott 6-1, 6-2 in the semi-finals. Trombold and Martin advanced to the finals by dumping Joe Decort and Rogers 6-3, 0-6, 6-4 and Woody Deitch and Jeff Pidgeon 6-4, 6-0.

With 21 home runs to date, Bob Clemente needs two more to tie the Pittsburgh club record for most homers hit by a right fielder in one season, 23, set by Wally Westlake in 1949.

trailed New York by only 1½ games just a week ago, lost their fourth in a row 6-3 at Baltimore in the first game of a two-night pair. The second game was suspended by curfew after eight innings, with Baltimore leading 4-1.

The Chicago White Sox split a pair of 9-5 decisions in a day-night doubleheader at Minnesota, Cleveland beat Boston 7-2 and Kansas City divided a doubleheader with Los Angeles, winning 13-7 after the Angels had taken the opener 4-3.

The Tigers out-hit Baltimore 9-7 in the first game, but blew a 2-0 lead when the Orioles tagged loser Paul Foytack (10-9) for four runs in the fourth inning. Jackie Brandt and Charlie Lau hit home runs in the rally, with Lau, a one-time Tiger, breaking a 2-2 tie with a two-run shot. Jack Fisher (9-11) was the winner, with relief help.

In the suspended game, to be completed tonight, errors by Rocky Colavito, Billy Bruton and Dick Brown of the Tigers led to the Orioles' first three runs off Ron Kline. Detroit scored off Billy Hoelt in the sixth on a single by Al Kaline and a double by Colavito.

Johnny Blanchard, subbing for Mantle in the Yankee outfield, broke a 3-3 tie with a home run in the eighth inning off loser Bennie Daniels (8-10). Rookie Hal Reniff (2-0) was the winner with two innings of perfect relief.

In the nightcap, Clete Boyer homered for the Yanks' first run and drove in the winning run in the seventh with a sacrifice fly as New York once again came from behind. Bud Daley (10-16) was the winner and Pete Burnside (1-7) the loser.

Mantle, whose 50 home runs leave him all even with the pace set by Babe Ruth when he hit a record 60 in 1927, may miss tonight's game because of a strained arm muscle. Maris, with 53 home runs, is five games ahead of Ruth.

Big innings decided each game at Minnesota. The Twins built a 9-0 lead in the opener for Al Schroll (2-3) on Harmon Killebrew's 39th home run, off loser Frank Baumann (9-12), and a six-run fourth inning. In the nightcap, Roy Sievers drove in two runs with a double as the White Sox came from behind against Jim Kaat (7-14) with five runs in the fourth for an 8-5 lead. Joel Horlen, just up from the minors, was the winner in relief.

Willie Kirkland drove in two runs with a pair of singles and double for the Indians while Jim Grant (14-8) and Frank Funk held the Red Sox to seven hits. Ike Delock (6-8) was the loser.

The A's, held to six hits as Jack Spring (1-0) beat Jim Archer (8-12) in the opener, collected seven hits in an 11-run fifth inning in the nightcap that included home runs by Norm Siebern and reliever Joe Nuxhall (5-8). Art Fowler (5-7) was the loser.

OSU Holds Drills In 90-Degree Heat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's football team was scheduled for two more two-hour morning and afternoon workouts today after the season's first full-squad, full-unit practice session Monday in 90-degree temperature.

Today, however, news photographers were to have their day with the Buckeyes, with the players probably to workout only in shorts after the picture-taking session.

Warfield and guard Tom Jenkins of Dayton appear to have the inside track on their respective assignments, which would make them the only two sophomores on the first offensive unit.

Hot Stove All-Star Games Washed Out

All Hot Stove League All-Star games were rained out Labor Day and have been rescheduled for next Saturday. The schedule will remain unchanged.

The Class G second place play-off game between National Cleaners and Petrucci's has been rescheduled for Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Centennial Park South.

INDIANAPOLIS IS AA CHAMP

By The Associated Press
Indianapolis wrapped up the American Association baseball championship Monday night with a doubleheader sweep, 6-1, 3-0, over second-place Louisville. The Indians, a Cincinnati Reds affiliate have a 5-game lead with 3 games to play.

AL Castoff Ken Johnson Gains Reds Split With Phils

ST. LOUIS (AP)—“The knuckleball is my bread-and-butter pitch,” said beaming Ken Johnson, the Cincinnati Reds' new pitching find.

“And you know, when I was with the Kansas City A's last year they wouldn't let me throw it.”

Let that be a lesson to the American Leaguers. Castoff Johnson knuckle-balled his way Monday to a 5-0 shutout of the newly-troublesome Philadelphia Phillies.

Johnson's opener victory was followed by a 5-3 loss to the Phils, leaving the Reds only two games ahead of Los Angeles in the National League chase.

Johnson gave up only four hits, two by former Redleg Tony Gonzalez.

His teammates helped by picking up four runs before the game was four innings old.

Eddie Kasko's homer after Elio Chacon bunted safely gave the Reds a quick jump in the first inning when they routed Frank Sullivan. Johnny Edwards in the second singled in Gene Freese who had walked and stolen second.

It was Freese again in the fourth, doubling and darting home on Edwards' single.

A good-measure marker came in the ninth. Chacon singled, stole second and scored on Kasko's single.

Cincinnati Art Mahaffey (10-18) checked the Reds in the nightcap. The Phillie right-hander yielded a run in the fourth and nothing else until a two-run ninth.

The Phils did little with starter Ken Hunt until the fourth, but raised big trouble after he opened an old gash on his pitching hand and had to retire in favor of Sherman Jones.

The hand trouble showed up when Gonzalez drew a walk, stole second and reached third on a wild pitch. That set up Don Demeter's run-producing single, then a walk to Wes Covington.

Jones walked Clay Dalrymple and gave up Ruben Amaro's run-making single before shutting down the inning.

Two passes and a bloop double by Tony Taylor in the sixth set up another score, and two more Philly markers in the seventh gave them enough margin. A single by Bob Malkmus, double by John Callison and walk to Gonzalez loaded the bases. Jay Hook came in and fanned Demeter, but Wes Covington's sacrifice fly put one run over and a miscue by Freese on a relay accounted for the other.

Cincinnati moved on after the game to St. Louis. The Reds face the Cardinals tonight and Wednesday before returning to Crosley Field. Bob Purkey is to pitch tonight, opposing Bob Gibson.

Pitching—Don Drysdale, Dodgers, blanked Giants on two hits, both singles, walked three and struck out three for 4-3 victory.

Hitting — Johnny Blanchard, Yankees, subbed for injured Mickey Mantle and went 3-for-3, breaking up tie game with eighth inning home run in first game of 5-3 and 3-2 sweep over Senators.

He walked three struck out three and gave up only a pair of singles.

The Dodgers, held scoreless for 14 2-3 innings so far this year by Juan Marichal (13-10), were off and running early against the Giants' right-hander, Maury Wills singled, stole second and came around with the first run on a fly and infield out in the third inning. Then Tommy Davis reached base on an error in the fourth, stole second, sent to third on a second error and finally stole home.

Duke Snider then chased Marichal with a two-run homer in the fifth inning. It was the 380th home run of the Duke's career and gave him 1,224 RBI, good for 10th place on the all-time list.

U.S. Tennis Captain Wants Ralston Back

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—“Our Davis Cup situation is pretty bleak—we were hard up for players even before Dennis Ralston was suspended.”

That was the mournful comment of David Freed, the U.S. captain, after watching his ace player, Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, take a thrashing in the National Championships from perennial spoiler, Whitney Reed.

“We may have to draft some of our older players,” Freed added. “We could do worse.”

Topping such a draft list certainly would be Reed, 29, from Alameda, Calif., who beat McKinley, 6-3, 9-7, 3-6, 6-3, and Vic Seixas, 38, who had match point on seventh-seeded Jon Douglas before bowing in a bitter struggle 6-4, 2-6, 2-6, 9-7, 6-4.

Freed said he and the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association bigwigs still had hopes of getting the hot-headed Ralston back in the fold.

“Maybe the executive committee, which meets Friday, will give him only a short suspension and he can play on the cup team,” the captain added.

Seixas, a Philadelphia business man, probably would not be available for Davis Cup duty but the same couldn't be said of Reed, an uninhibited young man of the Art Larsen stripe.

“They know where to find me,” Reed said after beating McKinley, “but I don't think they'll get that hard up.”

Asked if it were true he trained on a diet of beer and hot dogs and late hours, the blond Californian quipped: “I wouldn't include the hot dogs.”

Dodgers Blank Giants 4-0 On Drysdale's Two-Hitter

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale blanked San Francisco on two hits as the second place Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Giants 4-0 Monday night and moved within two games of Cincinnati in the National League race.

The Reds split a doubleheader at Philadelphia, winning 5-0 before the last place Phils took the second game 5-3 for their second success in 20 games with Cincinnati.

The Chicago Cubs beat Milwaukee 6-2 and St. Louis rapped Pittsburgh 9-4.

Drysdale (11-9), a big, side-arming right-hander, beat the Giants for the first time since last Sept.

6. He walked three struck out three and gave up only a pair of singles.

The Dodgers, held scoreless for 14 2-3 innings so far this year by Juan Marichal (13-10), were off and running early against the Giants' right-hander, Maury Wills singled, stole second and came around with the first run on a fly and infield out in the third inning. Ken Johnson (6-2), a right-hander who had a 6-11 record for three years in the American League with Kansas City, pitched the first shutout of his major league career by checking the Phils on four hits in the opener. Ed Kasko drove in three of the Reds' runs, two with a first-inning homer off loser Frank Sullivan (3-14).

Art Mahaffey (10-18) then stopped Cincinnati on eight hits in the second game. The Phils wrapped it up with two runs in the seventh, scoring the clincher on a sacrifice fly by Wes Covington. Ken Hunt (9-10) was the loser.

Ernie Banks' two-run homer pulled the Cubs from behind in the third inning against Carl Wiley (5-10). Southpaw Jack Curtis (10-10) blanked the Braves on six hits after they scored twice in the first on Hank Aaron's double and a single by Joe Adcock.

The Cardinals built a quick 5-0 lead against loser Earl Francis (2-6) and put it out of the Bucs' reach when Bill White hit a grand-slam homer in the sixth inning. Ray Sadecki (13-7) was the winner although giving up a three-run homer by Hal Smith.

Majors' Attendance Shows Big Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the increase from 16 to 18 teams, the major leagues are likely to fall almost one million short of their 1960 baseball attendance this season.

Through Sunday's games, total big league attendance for 1961 was 16,678,233, a drop of five per cent from the comparable number of dates last year. Should this same ratio continue in the remaining four weeks of the campaign, the majors would finish about a million under its final 1960 total of 19,911,489.

The National League, which set an attendance record with 10,684,963 paid customers last season, has played before 7,701,625 this year for a decrease of 18.8 per cent so far. The American League shows an increase of 800,000. But this figure includes 1,684,000, the combined aggregate for the two new franchises, Minnesota (1,126,000) and Los Angeles (558,000).

The only teams ahead of their 1960 attendances are the Cincinnati Reds (325,000), Detroit Tigers (328,000) and New York Yankees (61,000).

Tribe Pins 7-1 Defeat on Red Sox

BOSTON (AP)—If the Cleveland Indians could have played more games in Fenway Park they might rank higher in the American League.

They have won six of seven here this season, helping them to a 12-4 record against the Red Sox. The latest was a 7-1 victory Monday in the opener of a three-game series winding up competition between the clubs this year.

Barry Latman (11-4) will start for the Tribe tonight if his blistered finger permits. Wynn Hawkins (6-9) will go if Latman can't. Gene Conley (9-11) is scheduled for the Red Sox.

Jim Grant (14-8) was the winner Monday as the Indians got 15 hits. Grant got help from Frank Funk, who made his 51st appearance of the season.

Johnny Temple and Willie Kirkland got three hits apiece for Cleveland and Vic Power, Woodie Held and Bubba Phillips each got two. Temple and Kirkland also had a stolen base apiece. Temple's was his ninth and he leads the Indians in that department.

Despite the score, the victory was not an easy one. Grant had to pitch out of jams in the second, third and fourth innings. The issue wasn't iced until the ninth, when the Indians got three runs off Billy Muffett who was in relief of starter and loser Ike DeLoch (6-8).

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

How to Prepare For the Measles

Here are the choices open to the conscientious parent and the informed physician when the problem of measles arises, as suggested in the first of these columns:

Let the disease run its course. In which case, the illness of two or three weeks with the possibilities of complicating bronchitis, pneumonia and brain involvement.

Request protective immunizations with the measles virus vaccine, soon to be made available to all physicians. Following vaccine injection, the child may be expected to have a very mild attack, lasting one or two days. There will be no complications. And preliminary investigations suggest that the immunity will be life-long just as in the case of recovery from an attack that has been permitted to run its natural course. This is called an artificially induced active immunity.

Investigate the possibility of obtaining the benefits of injections of measles modifier (gamma globulin) as soon as a known exposure occurs. Given in sufficient dose within the course of the first week following exposure, gamma globulin may prevent the disease entirely.

This has the obvious advantage of sparing the child any discomfort whatsoever. But it has the disadvantage that the immunity it provides is of short duration. Within a few weeks of this sort of passive immunization, the child is just as susceptible to attack as it was before the injections were given.

tion, the child may be expected to develop a mild measles attack. This bout of "modified measles" lasts but a few days. It is not accompanied or followed by complications. And, since it combines active with passive immunization, it gives lifelong protection just like recovery from an infection that has been allowed to run its natural course.

Unfortunately, supplies of gamma globulin are limited since it is a derivative of human blood plasma. And, in order that these limited supplies may be put to the best possible use, it has been agreed to confine protective injections of gamma globulin where the need is greatest. That is to say, for youngsters under the age of 2 years and for older children whose resistance has been lowered by some other disability. Such as heart trouble, rheumatic fever, asthma or some congenital deformity.

Now if you find all this confusing at a first reading, will you please save these two columns and study them again when you have free time and can concentrate on the information they are trying to convey? For, what you learn may save you and your children from weeks of discomfort at the very least. And this saving can best be obtained if you, the alert parent, take the initiative either before or just after exposure to the disease has occurred.
